To Whom It May Concern:
Department of Homeland Security / Executive Office for Immigration Review

My name is Roman Beaumont Jr., and I am writing in strong support of Sohail Moiz (A-Number: A-077669016), who is currently being held at the Montgomery Processing Center. I am a 19-year-old United States citizen, and I have known Sohail for about ten years, and during that time he has been the primary father figure in my life. Although he is not my biological father, he has filled that role in every way that truly matters.

Sohail became a part of our family when I was 9 years old. For as long as I can remember, he has been a constant source of support, guidance, and stability for me, my brothers, and my mother. He never treated us any differently because we were not his biological children. Instead, he embraced us as his own and devoted himself to helping raise us, support us, and provide us with a better future.

One of the things I admire most about Sohail is his willingness to put family first. Throughout my childhood, he was always present in our lives. He helped get us ready for school, attended our activities, encouraged us to do well academically, and made sure we always had what we needed. Whether it was driving us where we needed to go, helping us through difficult situations, or simply spending quality time with us, he was always there.

One of my favorite memories with Sohail was when I told him how much I loved the way he cooked his chicken. He took the time to teach me how to prepare it, and that evening I cooked dinner for him, Reed, Ryder, and myself. They all enjoyed it and praised my cooking, which gave me a tremendous sense of confidence. I felt like the best cook ever. To this day, cooking remains one of my favorite hobbies.

Sohail taught me valuable lessons about responsibility, hard work, and integrity. By watching the way he treated people and cared for our family, I learned what it means to be dependable and compassionate. He led by example and showed me the importance of perseverance, respect, and sacrifice. Many of the values I carry with me today are the result of his influence and guidance.

I was recently under a great deal of stress trying to balance work, college, and financial responsibilities. I was considering taking a gap semester from college. I did not want to place additional financial strain on my family. When I shared these concerns with Sohail, he immediately reassured me that my education was important and told me he would help however he could so that I could continue pursuing my degree. His willingness to support me during such a difficult time demonstrated the depth of his commitment to my future. Sohail never failed me. Throughout my life, Sohail has consistently been someone I could rely on for guidance, encouragement, and support.

His presence has also been incredibly important to our family's emotional well-being. Sohail has always been someone we could turn to for advice, encouragement, and support during difficult times. He has helped us through challenges and celebrated our successes as if they were his own. Knowing that he believed in us gave us confidence and motivation to pursue our goals. Since his detention by ICE on September 29, 2026, our family has experienced tremendous emotional hardship. It has been painful to see someone who has devoted so many years to supporting our family in every way possible suddenly taken away from us. The uncertainty surrounding his future has caused significant stress, anxiety, and fear for everyone who loves him. His absence has left a void in our family that cannot be easily filled.

If Sohail were removed from the United States, the impact on our family would be devastating. We would lose a father figure, mentor, provider, and source of emotional support. The hardship would extend far beyond financial concerns. The emotional toll of losing someone who has been such an important part of our lives for so many years would be immense and long-lasting.

Sohail is a kind, selfless, and hardworking man who has dedicated himself to caring for our family. He has always demonstrated strong moral character and a genuine commitment to the people around him. He is not only an important member of our family but also someone who positively affects everyone who knows him.

As a young adult who has benefited tremendously from Sohail's guidance, love, and support, I cannot overstate how important he is to our family. He has helped shape the person I am today and continues to be a source of strength for all of us. I respectfully ask that you consider his positive character, his devotion to our family, and the significant hardship his continued detention or removal would cause. Granting him bond or other available relief would allow him to return to the family who loves and depends upon him.

Thank you for your time, consideration, and compassion.

Sincerely,

Roman Beaumont Jr.
